Principal's Page

What a time we have enjoyed with our visitors from Delhi, India! It has been fantastic to see and hear about a different culture to ours, and to then tell our visitors about the wonderful reasons why we love Australia! We have had a great time hosting teachers and students, visiting Healesville Sanctuary, Sovereign Hill and Melbourne not to mention other places of interest with the families that are hosting.

On Monday we were honoured to have the Indian Consul-General to Melbourne, Ms Manika Jain, come and visit, as we officially welcomed our visitors from Bluebells International to Australia and Rangebank. Ms Jain was very excited to be able to speak with our students directly. It was a special moment for a person who has been extremely supportive of Rangebank through the Indian Consulate.

Special requests for 2017
At this time of the year, if you have special requests for your child in 2016, please give your letter to the office who will pass it onto the level coordinators.

Rangebank Primary and Rangebank OHSC
The Out of Hours School Care is provided for Rangebank Primary by Rangebank OHSC. Although not directly part of the school organisation, Rangebank OHSC provides a very important service for many. We are grateful that Rose chose Rangebank to setup an Out of Hours School Care.

Booklists
Each year the teachers review the booklist for the following year. After the review, this is handed out to parents. Some parents ask is it possible to buy part of the booklist? At the recent school council it was decided that if parents choose to purchase their child’s books, it needs to be the same as listed on the booklist and parents will need to buy all items on the list. We are trialling this option for 2017.

Colin Avery, Principal - Honoured to have met our Bluebells visitors

Our motto: Dream, Believe, Strive, Achieve
Our Vision: To build a community of leaders and life-long learners.

Parents Advice

Respectful Relations

Mid-late primary and early secondary school age is a critical time for our children’s development and learning skills around friendships, partnerships and relationships. The popular culture and online world they are immersed in is providing them with inaccurate and adverse messages and images about what respectful human relationships look like.

Parents, carers and teachers may feel powerless against these prominent influences, when in fact, there is a lot we can do to facilitate a culture of respectful relationships for our young people. We need to provide them with alternative versions of relationships and sexuality. Parents can start with:

- Providing the opposite environment and alternative views of the world, so when they experience these images, they can decode the almost comical/fake version of reality being depicted
- Modelling respectful/appropriate relationships
- Demonstrating the value of privacy
- Creating a positive, enthusiastic culture around consent.

Join Vanessa Hamilton, expert sexual health nurse & educator, and I for our new webinar series ‘Talking to kids about sex and respectful relationships’. This 2-part series is invaluable for parents, carers and teachers of middle to upper primary children and adolescents. Learn how to have open, honest and age-appropriate discussions with children about body safety, sex and respectful relationships.

Over two evening online sessions we will cover the following:

- Age appropriate childhood sexual development and behaviour
- How to talk to kids about sex
- Common parent myths and fears
- Benefits of teaching sexuality from a young age
- The impact of our sexualised society on our kids
- A guide to addressing curiosity and sexuality questions
- How to teach body safety and the prevention of sexual abuse
- How to encourage respectful relationships
- How to communicate the harms of internet pornography to your children
- Basic human rights regarding sexuality and how to empower children
